Wheeling, IL — "How to choose the most cost-effective mold release." "How to effectively use a rust preventive." "How to clean hot and cold molds and metals." Toll-free technical support. Try-before-you-buy free sample program and free sample kits. These are just a few of the new helpful features injection molders and general industrial users will find in the new Slide Products “Productivity Guide.”

Filled with a variety of products, including new cleaners, new purging compounds and spraying systems and new formulations that keep manufacturers up-to-date and in compliance with federal and state requirements, the new Slide catalog simplifies the selection of products that will help maximize productivity. For manufacturers wanting additional support, Slide offers a nationwide network of knowledgeable distributors and “toll-free” technical support that puts them directly in touch with someone who can really help.

The new catalog includes mold releases, lubricants, cleaners, purging compounds, rust preventives, cutting oils, layout dies and accessories for increasing productivity, along with charts to help with selecting the best product of the application.

Slide also provides the opportunity for manufacturers to get free samples of its products to test on their particular application. Free samples are available on-line at www.slideproducts.com or by calling Slide's toll free number, 1-800-323-6433.
